“ CHERYL BAIMBRIDGE lit a candle in memory of LeeRoy Baimbridge

“ Cindy, my brother, Wayne Baimbridge, said it beautifully. Our memories come from our childhood of Uncle Leroy. I have talked about Uncle Leroy from these memories. He was a hard-working man, father, husband and cared about his family. As you know if I needed to know more about the family, I would ask him what he knew and he could fill in the blanks. He will truly be missed. My prayers to all the family for our loss.

“ To all the Baimbridge family.

I didn't know Leroy and have only met him briefly when we passed through Texas on our way to California on one of my dad's (Horace, Hayward Baimbridge) duty relocations. His reputation was known throughout the family (even those of us outside of the nuclear circle) to be an honest, hard working devoted family man. Whenever my dad spoke of him, it was always with warmth. My only conscious memory was of Leroy in a photo with overalls standing next to a locomotive. It looked like a typical hot and miserably humid Texas summer. But Leroy had a beaming smile that remained in my memory all these years later.

He enriched the Baimbridge name and family reputation in all the right ways.

For those who were closest to him and feel the emotional loss of his presence, my sincere and heartfelt sympathies and condolences.

He and all our tribe's ancestors have made a place for us where we will be greeted when we pass from ours into theirs. The thought of joining brings comfort and solace to our existence in the physical plane.

Be at peace, he is.

“ Cindy, I know you will miss this great guy. You had a wonderful marriage for too short of a time. Bobby always said "not long enough" when asked how long we were married. I know you feel the same. Know you are loved. I pray for peace and comfort these next weeks to come Toodie Brady
