

A.C. Rooker Jr.

March 31, 1943 - January 15, 2026

A.C. Rooker Jr. was a man who never liked to sit still. He loved staying busy and always found joy in the simple things that made life meaningful to him. Whether he was watching westerns, working his cattle, or admiring John Deere tractors, A.C. had a deep appreciation for hard work and the outdoors.

He worked many years in the oilfield before starting his own company, Rooker Swabbing Service, and later Rooker Well Service.

In his younger days, he was known as quite the pool shark, and he never lost his love for the game. He also enjoyed listening to the radio, especially KULP, where he faithfully tuned in to the Trading Post.

A.C. enjoyed telling stories from the old days, sharing memories of the life he had lived, the people he knew, and the experiences that shaped him. Those stories became special moments for family, offering laughter, wisdom, and a glimpse into his past.

He felt most at home outdoors, whether it was on his tractor, on pontoon boats, on jet skis, or anywhere on the water. He loved it all. Time spent outside brought him peace, freedom, and some of his happiest moments.

Above all else, A.C. cherished his family. He loved being together, sharing meals, and never showed up without his Tupperware containers ready to take home leftovers. Those small habits became some of the most endearing memories for those who loved him.

He also held a special place in his heart for his deer lease in Mexico, where he found joy and adventure.

A.C. Rooker Jr. will be remembered for his love of the outdoors, his storytelling, his loyalty to family, and the many simple pleasures that made his life full.

He is survived by his son, A.C. Rooker III (Maureen) of Hutto; daughter, Lisa Slaughter (Cole) of El Campo; grandchildren, Riley Todd and Emilie Rooker and siblings, Gloria Patik, Emily Beal (Donald) and Aleene Vaclavik (Billy), all of El Campo.

Albin was preceded in death by his parents and sister, Carol Morris.

Visitation will begin at 10 a.m. on Wednesday, January 21 at Triska Funeral Home. Funeral services will follow at 11 a.m. with Pastor Mike Smith officiating.
