“ Carol is and has always been a bright light to every person her path travels. She and Catherine, together and separately, embody the love of Jesus Christ and I'm confident Carol is one of Gods heavenly angels of love & mercy. Rest In His Peace sweet Carol.

“ Our hearts go out to husband Pat, twin sister Catherine, son Chris and family. We grieve with you and will remember Carol forever in our hearts.

Rest in peace in the arms of our sweet Lord Jesus, dearest Carol. We will see each other again for certain. While we deeply mourn your departure, we celebrate your life even more. You were a loving, joyful soul with the sweetest and calmest disposition, even when you were going thru rough times. You have been a huge part of my life at work and off work and I am a better version of myself because of you. You were a faithful prayer partner, confidant and buddy... thank you for that privilege. I cannot imagine the coming years without you and that special bond we had, but will keep on with God's grace. I love you so much, my dearest friend, be in eternal joy and peace... you have truly been a blessing to me. 🙏🥹

“ My sincere condolences for the loss of very special Carol. I did not know her as well as many knew her. I would walk by Carol's office on the way to my office at work each morning. She never failed to brighten the day with a feeling of warmth through her heartfelt "Good Morning." I spent some time with her as she was preparing to retire from the work she did so very well, and recall her excitement and her gratitude for the advice she had been seeking. I wish that she had more time to enjoy on earth the fruits of her labor and know that she will be hugely missed, but take solace in knowing that she is with God and that he knows that he is receiving into his Kingdom a very special, good person.

“ I met Carol in 1980 on the first day she came to work for Exxon as the Administrative Assistant for the Production Geoscience Applications Group. She was a bright spot for everyone who knew her, always cheerful and smiling. Her proudest achievement was being Christopher's mother. My sincerest condolences to Pat, Christopher, and her twin sister, Catherine. God has made a special place for Carol in Heaven.

“ I met and worked with Carol at ExxonMobil for a number of years with the Exploration and Production companies. Every time I saw Carol, she was smiling. She was such a lovely person; always making everyone feel special and important. I just learned that Carol was ill from her good friend Mvic a few days ago. I was devastated to learn this and then hearing of her passing before I could even reach out. My condolences and prayers to Pat and all of Carol's family. She will be missed dearly, but thought of fondly in years to come.

“ We were friends before we were family. Even though we were not related by marriage any longer, you were still my sister-in-law. I want to thank you again for the support that you gave me through my journey with breast cancer. I know that you had a great reunion with your mom, Sally, dad and your other mom and the rest of the family that had gone before you. I know we will see each other again one day. Enjoy your wings.

Love you
