“ Denise really showed her love by the way she cared for people. Even after a full day of work at her regular job, she would go to help family members with the extra care they needed. She always wanted to be able to provide good celebrations for her family with gifts and delicious food. She loved plants and flowers and she made her home very welcoming. Even when she needed care herself, she made friends with staff and others to keep their spirits up. Her wonderful nature lives on in her children and grandchildren.
