“ I had only recently met Elia when she helped us make tamales for the Helping Hands Ministry. I really enjoyed working with her, and learned a lot. Because of her, I will be able to make better tamales. I recently spoke to her at HEB, and we remembered the fun we had making tamales together. I was very saddened to hear that she had died. I think she was a very special person who cared a lot for others and was willing to help them.
