“ I had the privilege of working with Gerry for about 6 years at Dynadrill/PMP. Whether he knew it or not he helped shape my career in the industry. I'm glad I was a able to share more than a few beers and great stories with him. As a native Texan I'm both proud and ashamed to say that an English man taught me how to fry a Turkey lol. Gerry was a funny guy that made going to work a pleasure, he will be missed. Kind of an inside joke, but if I do ever visit England I'll remember Gerry telling me I'll get my butt whooped for my horrible impersonation of the English accent. RIP Gerry

“ I will always remember Gerry and the boys under the shade tree in Bryan's pasture during dove season. They would shoot a ton of shells and were having a blast doing it regardless of the number of birds they got. Gerry was a fine man and I know he will be missed. My thoughts and prayers to Rachel and the family.
