“ Dear Miranda,

I remember all the times all of us kids would sing in the living room and call your grandpa's and sing to them and the time us girls would play fight with Joel and each other. I remember when our family's would always go out to eat after church in the evening , and how LeAnn would tell me what you and Joel had done that week while she would rolled her eyes.

I'm praying for you and your family.I LOVE YOU ALL !

“ Dear Alvie, Laura & family. Our thoughts & prayers are with you at this difficult time. We wish we could be there. We listened to the memories tonight. I too, remember that sewing day when you asked me to bring the boys home from school because you got a call & needed to go right away. How exciting that was to see her! She was so cute! It must have been a little over a month later that my Mom passed away. I also remember that basket dinner, when some of the girls had her (as usual). Most everyone was in the fellowship hall. I went into the nursery for something & looking thru the window, I noticed some of the girls had LeAnn on one of the benches closer to the front. As I remember, she was standing, holding onto the back of the bench chewing on something. I walked out of the nursery and was in the entry when the girls came running out of the sanctuary with her, they were worried I could tell, & LeAnn had this look on her face that causes you to panic, you could tell she couldn't breathe! I grabbed her & told one of the girls to get you. I remember Alvie came around the corner where the bookshelf used to be, grabbed her, turned her upside down, & hit her on the back. She started breathing again, but if I remember right, you went to El Campo hospital & then on to Wharton, where they went down her throat & got that plastic piece from the binding on the book, out of her throat. She was such an adorable little girl & like Marla was remembering, her long eye lashes! She was just like a flower that was unfolding & God picks the very best for His garden!
With loving thoughts,
