“ He was a friend and confidant. He was like a brother who would firmly set me straight in one minute then have me laughing the next. I will always remember him for his humility and the kindness he showed to others. He took me to my first concert. The only reason I was allowed to go is because Mom knew Michael was taking me. My thoughts are with you.....

“ Michael and I were neighbors during our teenage years. I remember on hot summer nights we would walk to the water front and sneak on to the surfside motel pier. We would lie down and watch shooting stars. We would talk for hours about growing up and living our dreams. The good ol days. I was out of touch with Michael until this last year, but we picked up where we left off. He was so kind, and a hard working man. I will cherish those memories of hot summer nights in Rockport. My heart goes out to Norman, Linda and Lorri.
