“ We are so sad to hear about Nancy. She was one of the most beautiful women I knew. Every time I saw her she was impeccable not only her hair and makeup but her sweet voice and kindness that exuded when she spoke. Nancy was graceful in every way. Our thoughts and prayers for her family and her friends who adored her.

“ She is my great aunt, we were very close through out my life, she taught me manh valuable lessons and loved me as much as i love her upstairs in her house is a little rocking chair in the corner by the guest bed, she would always leave me little things. we would watch the king and i and the antique road show together she always taught me and reminded me to be a lady and respect yourself and always have god in your heart and be kind even when others werent so kind, we would get mcdonalds and go to thrift stores together she would tend to her beautiful back yard as i watched cartoons in the morning she always made sure i felt loved and happy. we would paint together and go through old photos together nap together on her couch i would always help her with her cell phone and her electronics lol she never understood it but she tried, she was so sweet and loving i will miss her dearly. i love you nan, now and forever will you be in my heart. you taught me so much, this wasnt ideal for me it still dosent seem real. i wanted you to watch me walk the stage and graduate college. but you were there when i graduated high school. you always have supported me and wanted whats best for me. i will finish college and be the best woman i can be for you. i know youll be watching down from heaven. along with aunt laura and too too. i love you.
