“ Steven's father and mine (Tony Faas) were best friends when we were growing up and we would go on many fishing trips together. At this time Steven and I were only 12 years old.

This one time, Steven and I and our families went on this one trip in Palcious.

Both our parents were riding in their bigger boats while Steven, my brother and I were in a 10 ft sciff (aluminum boat) with a 25-horsepower motor. Our fathers wanted to go accross the bay and Steven and I wanted to go accross in the small aluminum boat. It took an hour to get accross.

Later we all saw this Squaw (stormy dark blue clouds w/lighting and thunder) coming towards us. Everyone decided let's get back accross the bay before it hit us, but the storm hit us like a train wreck. The wind was gusting at least 30 to 40 mph and the waves were hitting the boat hard and filling the boat up with water. Our parents couldn't help us because it was too ruff, and their boat was going to collide with us making it worse, so we had to make it back while our parents watched over us from their boats. Were we so scared but all we thought about was getting accross to land as fast as possible but we couldnt drive fast due to the waves hitting so hard the front of the boat was coming out of the water. I remember Steven was driving the boat and we would look at each other saying nothing but you could see the fear in our looks. We were scared and shivering from the chilly water and the wind.

Well, it took us longer than before due to the weather but we made back accross the bay.

We made it back to land safely, and Steven and later we told each other how scared we were and that we were lucky to come back safe. We talked about it for a while.

One of the scary times i lived

Steven, Steven's father, My Dad, my brother and I we went on many fishing trips since we were little kids. We grew up together and we were best friends.

We got older and didnt stay connected as much as i would have liked but occasionally, we would bump into each other.

*I'm going to miss Steven. He was a dear friend of mine.
I have a lot of memories of us when were kids*
