“ My dear sister, I can't believe you're gone. Hug our loved ones for me. I will never forget you. You were always so happy even when time were tough for you. I thought we were gonna grow old with a bunch of grandbabies. I wish I had one more visit with you and I'd hug you tighter than the last time I seen you! You were my person I would call when I needed to talk. You loved hard and we loved you. The best thing about having a sister was that I always had a friend and I'm gonna miss you so..

“ *My mom was something amazing. She was my best friend, my person.
Not many people appreciated her while she was here, only when she left us. I pray that she finds peace and that shes finally happy with people who she loved in this life. I love you so much momma. So so much.
You are the strongest person I know. No matter how tired or how much pain you feel, you still keep going. With a fractured foot you keep walking and working harder than any man around.*
